

Multiple-award-winning British brand 'The Organic Pharmacy' was founded in 2002 in response to the alarming levels of toxic chemicals used in most traditional medicines and beauty products these days.

The Organic Pharmacy's product range combines high-quality, medical-grade natural ingredients - in accordance with the principles of homeopathic medicine - to deliver balanced health and beauty treatments that provide honest, solution-driven results. It brings 'organic' into the 21st century. Most of The Organic Pharmacy's products are between 95 to 99.9% organic, free from artificial colorants, fragrances, petrochemicals and preservatives. The precious and delicate organic extracts and plant essences require unique hand-blending and a careful manufacturing process, which occurs at The Organic Pharmacy's own Ecocert-approved facility in London. The production involves rigorous quality control and organic standards, as well as a meticulous, labour-intensive process.
