

SUMMER WITH A VIEW – AL FRESCO DINING AT MANDARIN ORIENTAL’S EUROPEAN PROPERTIES

Hong Kong, 22 April 2013 – Mandarin Oriental’s European hotels are ideal to visit this summer with a range of spectacular gardens, terraces and rooftops with panoramic vistas or lush surroundings to complement the hotels’ innovative dining.

The Terrace at Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, London: Dining with exceptional royal parkland views

Overlooking the southern meadows of the Royal Park below the Serpentine Lake, The Terrace at Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, London invites guests to enjoy al fresco breakfast whilst the quintessential English spectacle of the Household Cavalry rides past from Knightsbridge Barracks to nearby Buckingham Palace every morning.

The ideal way to start the day whilst soaking up the daily Hyde Park scene of people riding, walking their dogs, jogging and cycling, The Terrace makes the most of its idyllic location during the summer months and offers sumptuous breakfasts served against an enchanting floral backdrop with the informal elegance of an English country garden.

The garden at Mandarin Oriental, Paris – stylish courtyard dining in the world’s most fashionable location

Providing one of the city’s most charming green spaces for guests and locals to dine, enjoy cocktails and socialise, the courtyard garden at Mandarin Oriental, Paris provides an ideal location to sample drinks and cuisine from both Bar 8, the hotel’s intimate bar which serves an exclusive ‘Street Marx’ menu by Michelin-starred Chef Thierry Marx, and Camélia, the hotel’s all-day dining restaurant, with French cuisine influenced by Chef Marx’s love and knowledge of Asia.

As well as outside seating for everyday dining, guests can reserve the beautifully designed birdcage style ‘La Table du Jardin’, which offers space to entertain six guests for a unique elevated dining experience amongst the flowers and trees.
