GAYLIA KRISTENSEN DEBUTS IN EUROPE AT THE SPA AT MANDARIN ORIENTAL, LONDON

Hong Kong, 5 November, 2012 -- Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, London has launched a revolutionary new facial treatment and skincare product line for dramatically younger looking skin by Gaylia Kristensen, Australia's premium skincare pioneer. Debuting for the first time in Europe at the award-winning Spa at Mandarin Oriental, the Utopia Advanced Anti-Ageing Facial treatment and cutting-edge, results driven products are exclusive to Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park in London.

Achieving exceptional results and providing a natural alternative to cosmetic injections and surgery, Gaylia Kristensen's products are bio-engineered for maximum effect using state-of-the-art molecular polypeptide and protein techniques. They do not contain petrochemicals, mineral oil, parabens, harsh detergents or toxic ingredients, offering effective, anti-ageing solutions and prevention for all skin types.

Exclusively created by Carly St John, Treatments Manager at The Spa at Mandarin Oriental, London, the award-winning Gaylia Kristensen Utopia Advanced Anti-Ageing Facial treatment focuses on complete rejuvenation of the face, eyes and neck area. This luxurious 80-minute spa experience begins with a deep cleanse and exfoliation to renew and brighten the skin, before guests enjoy a unique lifting and toning massage that targets the stress and strain of over-used facial muscles, using Kristensen's precious Passion Oil. A pure plant collagen facial mask will then be applied to help stimulate collagen and boost elastin production, creating an instant lift, visibly sweeping away fine lines and repairing the appearance of UV-damaged skin. Kristensen's Serums and Treatment Creams are applied at the end of the treatment to lift, firm, brighten and lock in the moisture. The ultimate spa journey for dramatically younger looking skin, the Utopia Advanced Anti-Ageing Facial treatment is priced at GBP170.

"We are delighted to introduce the Gaylia Kristensen Utopia Advanced Anti-Ageing Facial and anti-ageing product line to The Spa at Mandarin Oriental, and to be the first to do so in Europe. This highly effective and non-invasive product line and service is a great addition to our facial range, and allows our guests to see fantastic results and a younger more radiant skin without using harsh chemicals, injections or surgery - every woman's dream", said Spa Director, Debi Green.

Gaylia Kristensen said; "I am delighted to be bringing my product range to Europe for the first time. There is a real synergy between the philosophy of my line of naturally derived, results driven products and the holistic approach of The Spa at Mandarin Oriental – it's the perfect marriage. Australia has the harshest climate on earth and we need the best skincare to help combat our extreme environment. We also have a country rich in natural botanicals that can perform wonders on the skin. This inspired me to create a range of unique, high performance anti-ageing products, which are now giving us the power to change the way we visibly age".
