ROOMS AND SUITES AT MANDARIN ORIENTAL, MUNICH – LUXURIOUS, INDIVIDUAL, PRIVATE AND FLEXIBLE

Guests of Mandarin Oriental, Munich have the choice between 48 guest rooms and 25 suites, each enjoying a well-orchestrated mix of styles, colours and patterns, combining furniture with historic heritage with a fresh and contemporary look and colour scheme. New art concepts grace each room, featuring individual mountain images by local artist Felix Rehfeld, paying tribute to Munich's geographical location as the gateway to the Alps. The art in all suites includes a mountain massif exclusively produced for the hotel by Royal Bavarian porcelain manufacturer, Nymphenburg.

King-size beds with down comforters, crisp linens and cotton chintz bedspreads ensure highest comfort, while bespoke furniture, carpets as well as original artwork add to the hotel's elegant and fresh ambience. In addition to state-of-the-art technology in every room and suite, guests will find a variety of newly introduced amenities and services, ranging from inspiring coffee table books curated by well-known Munich-based publishing house Callwey, locally produced biodegradable coffee capsules for Nespresso machines to personalised butler service.

The high-ceilinged guest bathrooms have been completely re-designed and now feature an elegant black-and-white colour scheme in polished stone. All bathrooms are equipped with walk-in shower, separate bathtub, toilet and bidet as well as underfloor heating.

As part of a new inroom amenity concept, all single-use plastic items in the rooms and bathrooms have been replaced with sustainable alternatives.

The luxurious Grand Presidential (325m²), Presidential (120m²) and Panoramic Suite (65 m²) also provide a winter garden, creating an airy, light-flooded atmosphere as well as unique views of the cityscape and landmarks. Furthermore, some of the hotel's 25 lavish suites offer diverse connecting possibilities to meet individual guest needs. It is thus possible to enlarge the two-bedroom Presidential to the Grand Presidential Suite, which includes the vast 120m² suite as
