ROOMS & SUITES

Located high above Columbus Circle, Mandarin Oriental, New York's 248 stylishly appointed rooms and suites reflect the oriental heritage of Mandarin Oriental while incorporating contemporary elements of New York City. And with every one of them comes a breathtaking view of Central Park and the Manhattan skyline, or the scenic Hudson River over which the sun sets

Rooms

Mandarin Oriental, New York has 244 rooms each offering panoramic views of Central Park and the Hudson River. The 198 deluxe rooms and 46 suites are spacious and elegantly appointed, featuring the latest in-room entertainment technology.

The guest room layouts differ in the treatment of the baths, one in a more traditional style, while the other features a wrap-around bath. The color scheme is ivory with blue and warm gold accents. The furniture in both room types is inspired by pieces from the 1940s.

The art collections are eclectic, featuring Paul Ching-Bor, a Taiwanese artist who created a series of paintings featuring bridges of New York City, as well as another artist from China, formally trained by a Chinese watercolor master and now residing in NYC.

Work space to meet all the needs of today's business traveler, especially electronic needs, was taken into consideration in the meticulous design of the guest room. Each room offers a user accessible auxiliary panels custom built into the furniture offering simplified connectivity between the in-room entertainment system and guests' personal technology.

The bathroom features a Spanish marble in soft beige, which is used throughout. A cherry vanity with an Italian granite top completes the vision of simple elegance. Many bathrooms feature soaking tubs situated at windows, allowing guests to enjoy the views of New York while relaxing in the bath.

Suites

Inspiration for the suites came from Manhattan apartments. All suites are located in the corners of the hotel, insuring spectacular park and river views. To mirror the concept of “the Manhattan apartment” all the suites are individual in their design, complete with distinctive artwork collections. Color schemes consist of pale silver and rose; pale gold, cream and black; and another that is based on a Mandarin robe in saffron and copper colors.

Mandarin Executive Suite

The 800 square feet, one-bedroom, king bedded Mandarin Executive Suites have a separate living room, providing a welcome escape from the rigors of the day. The Spanish marble bathroom has a picture window overlooking the Upper West Side of Manhattan along with an inviting soaking tub and a separate powder room for guests. These suites offer the latest cutting-edge entertainment technology including surround sound home entertainment system, as well as everything needed for conducting business from the comfort of a suite. Mandarin Executive Suites are also available with a king-bedded connecting room, making it ideal for family stays.

Central Park View Suite

Located on the northeast corners of the hotel, the 820 square feet Central Park View suites, feature expansive views of Central Park and the Manhattan skyline. In addition to the bedroom, there is a separate living room and guest powder room. The elegance of the 1940s decor is complimented by a warm ivory and blue color scheme which completes the look and feel of the room and an Oriental inspired credenza adding an Asian accent. Throughout the suite there are unique touches such as original artwork from New York and Asia.

Premier Central Park View Suite

Located on the southeast corners of the hotel, the Premier Central Park View Suites showcase unforgettable views of both Central Park and the Manhattan skyline. The luxurious color scheme of these suites includes shades of cream and brown with red, orange and grey accents.

Premier Central Park View Suites are also available with a connecting deluxe double or grand deluxe double offering extra space to accommodate additional guests. These suites are appointed with everything needed for business or leisure, including high speed internet access and state-of-the-art home entertainment center. The Premier Central Park View Suites are approximately 800 square feet.

Signature Suites

Presidential Suite

Offering panoramic views of Central park, the Hudson River, and the Manhattan skyline, the 2,230 square feet, one-bedroom, one and a half bath Presidential Suite located on the 53rd floor, features custom-designed furnishings in tones of chocolate brown, accented with luminous brushed gold and deep Chinese red accessories. The large Mozambique wood-paneled living and dining area lead to a private media room and study and fully equipped kitchen complete with stainless steel appliances, Nespresso machine, and private entrance for culinary staff. The Presidential Suite boasts the latest in state-of-the-art technology including Bang & Olufsen 65-inch plasma and 40-inch LCD televisions, 8-speaker surround sound system, five independent zone audio capability, Blu-ray HDDVD playback, Xbox 360 gaming console and electronically controlled light, temperature and sound systems through the room's iPad.

Upholstered in pearl-toned silk, the master bedroom is adjacent to a sycamore-paneled walk-in closet and spectacular master bath, encased in honey onyx walls and complete with a separate oversized soaking tub overlooking Central Park and glass-enclosed steam and shower for two. A combination of New York and Asian art and artifacts is used throughout the suite, blending touches of the Orient with contemporary New York including a 250-year-old parchment calligraphy book featuring Chinese characters conveying a story of happiness and good fortune. Espresso-stained bamboo floors, neutral roman shades that rise and fall at the touch of a button to reveal spectacular views of Manhattan and rich textiles throughout the suite create a space that is elegant yet comfortable, soothing yet stylish.

Oriental Suite

Located on the 52nd floor, the 1,800 square foot, one-bedroom, one and a half bath Oriental Suite offers expansive views of Central Park, the Hudson River, and the Manhattan skyline. The Oriental Suite features a large living and dining room accented by oriental-patterned silk damask draperies from Scalamandre and Brazilian Cherry hardwood floors covered with handcrafted oriental rugs. A separate, Mozambique wood-paneled library doubles as a study or a media room complete with the latest state-of-the-art Bang & Olufsen entertainment technology including 65-inch plasma and 40-inch LCD televisions, 8-speaker surround sound system, five independent zone audio capability, Blu-ray HDDVD playback, Xbox 360 gaming console and electronically controlled light, temperature and sound systems through the room's iPad. Adjacent to the living & dining space is a kitchen with custom Italian cabinetry, granite countertops, stainless steel appliances and Nespresso machine.

The Oriental Suite has a large master bedroom and bath, and includes a separate walk-in closet. Artwork in the suite follows the direction throughout the hotel, using a mixture of New York and oriental influences.

Taipan Suite
