MANDARIN ORIENTAL, NEW YORK FOOD & BEVERAGE FACT SHEET

RESTAURANT:

Asiate

Mandarin Oriental, New York's signature Restaurant Asiate perches above the city on the hotel's 35th floor, showcasing panoramic views of the Manhattan skyline from 16-foot floor-to-ceiling windows. The restaurant seats 90 guests and features a private dining area that seats up to 12 guests. The sophisticated décor of the space balances the urban surroundings with a nod to the hotel's Asian heritage with a look inspired by exotic orchid florals. A glittering wall of wine creates a chic backdrop for a memorable dining experience. The Wine Team has developed a collection of close to 10,000 selections which has captured Wine Spectator's 2014 Best Award of Excellence.

Asiate welcomes guests with modern American dishes with a creative twist.

CATERING

& BANQUETS:

Ballroom & Meeting Space

When the hotel first opened, The New York Times noted the Mandarin Ballroom as Manhattan's 'Darling Spot to Clink and Contribute.' Since then, the Ballroom and the hotel's other meeting spaces have become the city's most sought-after celebration destinations. For charity events, weddings, or bar or bat mitzvahs, the ballroom adds style and elegance to any occasion.

With the ability to accommodate 750 guests on a flow, the Mandarin Ballroom can also be divided into individual sections for smaller functions.

In addition to the perfect venue, the Five-Star Mandarin Oriental, New York provides customized menus for each event. Created with a diverse selection of inventive and classical dishes, guests may choose from a host of specialty stations or plated meal selections. Bento box-style tasting dishes are an Asian-influenced signature of the international culinary offerings.
