

Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, Annoushka and Ormonde Jayne

Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park has teamed up with two of Britain's leading brands in luxury-goods to create a regal experience like no other. Having partnered with London's leading perfumery house, Ormonde Jayne, and fine jewellery designer, Annoushka, guests' residing in the city's most fashionable address, the Royal Suite, can expect to enjoy an extra special stay this year thanks to a few exclusive additions.

Guests staying in the Royal Suite in 2013 will receive:

- An Annoushka Mythology 18ct yellow gold and diamond alphabet pendant in a chosen initial, as worn by the likes of Jennifer Lopez, Kirsten Stewart and Rihanna, with an invitation to visit their nearby boutique in Sloane Square during their stay.
- An invitation for a complimentary 'Perfume Portrait' at Ormonde Jayne's flagship boutique in Sloane Square, taking guests on a personal voyage of discovery to help them find their Ormonde Jayne scent.
- A 50ml bottle of Ormonde Jayne parfum, poured at 30% strength, in a hand blown flacon with a personalised engraved gold stopper featuring engraved initials or a special memorable date in a handmade box as a gift.

With a 70 meter balcony overlooking Hyde Park that is perfect for entertaining, original artwork from the Halcyon Gallery and dedicated complimentary Butler Service, the Royal Suite at Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park truly is an opulent home for the world's travelling elite.

Rates are from GBP 14,500 per night excluding 20% VAT and a 5% Discretionary Service Charge.
