Experience Silent Night at The Spas at Mandarin Oriental

In our increasingly hectic and urbanized world, silence is becoming a precious commodity. The Spas at Mandarin Oriental Hotels are attempting to “turn down the volume” by offering a night of silence in all their spas worldwide on Wednesday, December 12, 2018.

The spas will continue to offer their normal treatment menu (with a few modifications) but after 5pm there will be no talking and no music within the spa to instill a sense of peace and allow for individuals to experience contemplation and mindfulness. All communication will take place in a brief consultation at the beginning of the spa journey, before the guest changes into their robe.

“A lot of the value of a spa experience comes from simply disconnecting from technology and experiencing time for yourself in silence,” said Jeremy McCarthy, Group Spa Director for Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group.

“During this stressful time of the year, we want to create a space where people can press the pause button and have some time to think, meditate, or just take a break from being inundated with noise.”

Guests are encouraged to come alone or to bring a loved one with whom they would like to share an experience of silent connection. Priced per service.
