

Your Concierge in Paris By

January's Newsletter

Ladies and Gentlemen, please meet Paris 2015! What a better way to begin this year than with an armed Artist taking over the Grand Palais or a late New Year's Eve Party, Russian style. For the pacifists, we open the doors of the hot chocolate temples. Bonne année!

Exhibition

Niki de Saint Phalle at the Grand Palais

Niki de Saint Phalle (1930-2002) once said: "On a psychological level I have all that it takes to be a terrorist, but instead I decided to use guns for good, for art."

She is one of the most popular female artist of the mid-twentieth century but paradoxically the richness and complexity of her work remain to be discovered.

Grand Palais

The Sweetest Race: The Best Hot Chocolate.

This Winter, you truly deserve a hot, sweet and delicious chocolate. Take shelter in the heart of the mythical or trendy addresses of the Capital that revive your senses and your mind. Ready? Go for THE tasting of this season:

- ✓ Jean Paul Hévin: 231 Rue Saint-Honoré
- ✓ Les deux Magots: 170 Bvd Saint-Germain
- ✓ Un Dimanche à Paris: 4 Cours du Commerce Saint-André
- ✓ Angelina: 226 Rue Rivoli
- ✓ Ladurée: 16-18 Rue Royale

СТАРЫЙ НОВЫЙ ГОД – The Russian New Year

Put yourself into the Russian time and celebrate the Old New Year! For this event, we recommend three hotspots to immerse yourself into Russian's biggest celebration of the year. The Cercle Interallié opens the celebration on January 10th with the traditional Ball of the Tsars and Tsarinas. On the same evening, the mythical Raspoutine club will fire the Capital on a themed night. Also, the Pershing Hall restaurant will present on January 11th a Russian evening with a special menu, orchestra and a Vodka fountain. Spasibo Paris!

MyParis of the month

Passage Choiseul

