About St. Cecilia

With its Buckhead debut in January 2014, St. Cecilia captures simplicity met with sophistication. The restaurant's name not only pays tribute to the patron saint of music, it also represents Fry's love of music and the sirens of Greek mythology whose songs coaxed mariners to shore. Located at the bustling corner of Peachtree and Lenox Roads, the space blends a timeless design with a modern day atmosphere. Along with an old-world, ingredient-driven approach, executive chef Craig Richards displays the Italian trademarks that have always stood the test of time, but with versatile and local Southern ingredients. Atlanta Journal-Constitution named it one of "Atlanta's Top 100 Best Restaurants" and Jezebel deemed it "Best New Restaurant in Atlanta."
