SPACIOUS, STYLISH AND LUXURIOUS ACCOMMODATION AT MANDARIN ORIENTAL WANGFUJING, BEIJING

The rooms and suites at Mandarin Oriental Wangfujing, Beijing, located in the heart of China's capital, are some of the largest in the city – many with stunning views of the iconic Forbidden City.

The 73 rooms and suites in the luxury boutique hotel range from 55 to 260 sqm, all have floor-to ceiling windows and are lavishly equipped, with spa-style bathrooms, and ample space for living, dining and working. The interiors feature a contemporary design with subtle hints of imperial China.

Mandarin Oriental Wangfujing, Beijing, located above the prestigious WF CENTRAL retail and lifestyle centre, is a mere stroll from some of China's most spectacular sights including the Forbidden City, Tiananmen Square and various historical temples and residences, dotted around the Wangfujing area.

Guest Rooms

Mandarin Oriental Wangfujing's guestrooms are generously sized, featuring a contemporary and airy design with a subtle nod to China's grand imperial past. Respected international designers Hirsch Bedner and Associates (HBA) have created a soft and gentle mood, with a residential feel, enhanced by the lavish use of wood and a warm colour palette. A large octagonal designer table allows guests to work or dine in comfort.

Renowned luxury, and high-tech products to make guests feel relaxed and at home are found throughout, including toiletries by Diptyque, Dyson supersonic hairdryers, Bose speakers, Samsung 55-inch televisions and Nespresso coffee machines. A specially-commissioned Scottish cashmere throw, from Begg & Co. decorates the four-poster beds, with Ploh luxury goose down bedding, plush terry bathrobes and silk kimonos. The bathrooms are similarly lavish, with walk-in rain showers, marble tiling, double basins, heated floors, sleek bathtubs and other sumptuous touches. A discreetly-designed valet closet allows for disturbance-free service.

Suites

Mandarin Oriental Wangfujing suites range from 100 sqm to 260 sqm, some with views of the stunning Forbidden City and the option of private terraces, city views and sculpted rooftop terrace gardens.

The spa-like bathrooms feature deep-soaking tubs and large vanity areas, and all have an upscale residential ambiance. The larger suites are ideal for gatherings for friends or business associates, catered by Mandarin Oriental Wangfujing's expert international culinary team.

Many suites open onto generous private terrace areas, allowing guests to enjoy a quiet and secluded taste of nature right in the heart of bustling Wangfujing. The additional outdoor space can also be utilised for hosting soirees and events.

Presidential Suite

The Presidential Suite provides guests with the ultimate in luxury, comfort and style. This 260 sqm suite with a 300 sqm private terrace and sweeping views of the Forbidden City was inspired by the Beijing courtyard mansion of an imperial-era prince, a spacious yet private space perfect for entertaining guests.

The living room area is ideal for relaxing after a day of exploring the city or for hosting guests in a unique and discreet setting, with the option of spilling out onto the 300 sqm private outdoor terrace. The terrace has a particularly impressive location for hosting early-evening summer cocktail parties, as the sun sets over the Forbidden City.

The suite and terrace can also serve as a unique indoor-outdoor venue for a multitude of exclusive luxury events, from previews of a couture collection for fashionistas to a day's brainstorming by senior executives. The unparalleled venue and ever-present backdrop of the Forbidden City will leave an unforgettable impression on all.

Inside, guests can admire the carefully-curated collection of art and books while listening to gentle sounds played through speakers from Bang & Olufsen, leaders in audio excellence.

The international culinary team at Mandarin Oriental Wangfujing, is available with a wide choice of menu options to assemble a gourmet meal in the Presidential Suite itself, using the flair and culinary expertise they are famed for.
