OVERVIEW OF MANDARIN ORIENTAL, BODRUM

The leading Luxury Hideaway Resort in the Turkish Riviera of Mediterranean

With sweeping panoramic views over the blue Aegean Sea, Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum offers the ultimate in luxurious Mediterranean style on the Turkish Riviera. Overlooking the aptly named Paradise Bay (Cennet Koyu), the 60-hectare resort on the Bodrum peninsula nestles within landscaped hillside gardens surrounded by ancient olive groves and pine trees.

Landscape That Echoes the Indigenous Mosaic Habitat

The seamless connection between the landscape and architecture protects the site's natural beauty, the arrival court, swimming pools, spa gardens, private gardens, pools, and terraces to guest blocks, roofscape and main restaurant terraces. Ideally located on a sixty-hectare coastal hillside at Cennet Koyu with panoramic views over the Aegean Sea, this project represents the brand's first resort in Europe and become the region's most desirable address.

The landscape echoes the indigenous 'mosaic habitat' and charts the romantic journey from Mediterranean pine forest and the garrigue shrubland, to olive groves and savanna. This narrative was realized in a sequential experience, with destinations and vistas unfolding down the pathways winding gracefully down the hillside.

Design Details

The interior design for Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum features natural elements that merge the building with its surroundings to host serene stays in a five-star beachside resort. Surrounded by olive groves and pine forests, the building nests on a scenic hillside where light, landscape and sea meet in sparkling combination. With refined lines, the interiors draw a scene of luxury with wooden wall paneling and floors, cream-colored rugs, and woven leather headboards.

- Pool deck with tiered infinity edge pools carefully sited to work with the hillside's natural contours
