THE SPA AT MANDARIN ORIENTAL, BOSTON LAUNCHES THREE-MONTH HAUTE COUTURE PROGRAM BY BIOLOGIQUE RECHERCHE

Hong Kong, 3 June 2019 - The Spa at the Mandarin Oriental, Boston is excited to introduce US based spa-goers to the new Three-Month Haute Couture Program developed by Biologique Recherche. This partnership with Biologique Recherche, known for its effectiveness based on a clinical approach to beauty care, is a natural extension to the Spa's award-winning offerings. Biologique Recherche uses pure, concentrated, raw ingredients, as well as innovative and meticulous protocols and procedures.

The Haute Couture Program is the most exclusive treatment Biologique Recherche offers, providing a hyper-customized regimen designed to improve the complexion throughout a three-month period. Once a month, clients will visit a dedicated spa therapist for a thorough skin assessment. The Spa team, in conjunction with the Biologique Recherche medical team in France, analyse the results and provide real-time skin care recommendations. Utilizing the clients personally formulated products made at the Biologique Recherche Laboratory in France, clients receive two regimen boxes per month of personally formulated creams and serums. The bespoke products are developed for use during the clients monthly hyper-customized 90-minute facial at The Spa and as an at-home regimen, providing a truly Haute Couture experience.

The three-month program is priced at USD 9,000.

For those that aren't ready to commit to a three-month program, The Spa has launched the Biologique Recherche facial, the O₂ Restorative. A revolution in facials, this treatment detoxifies and stimulates to reoxygenate skin tissue, resulting in a radiant and flawless complexion. This 1 hour and 20-minute treatment is priced at USD 290 (Monday to Thursday) and USD 305 (Friday to Saturday).
