ROOMS, SUITES & SERVICED APARTMENTS

Mandarin Oriental, Doha's 117 rooms, 41 suites and 91 serviced apartments are appointed with an extraordinary attention to detail, designed by world-renowned David Collins Studio, exude an air of understated elegance. By combining local cultural references with contemporary design, luxury and comfort, the hotel has created an inviting home away from home for guests.

Offering a traditional yet refined take on a traditional Qatari house, rooms and suites feature decorative elements, which draw inspiration from Doha's rich heritage. The curved gilt ceiling relief incorporates a design that reflects the raw beauty of the interior's desert sand dunes. A modern take on traditional danshal beams, which project from the walls of traditional houses to support the roof and the floors, are discreetly placed throughout the rooms.

Other interesting decorative elements include carpets with patterns inspired by the city's pearling heritage. Cushions feature designs inspired by intricate traditional tiles, and bathroom walls feature mosaic tiles inspired by long-established weaving patterns. Combined together, the elements convey the city's history and heritage.

All rooms and suites feature spacious bathrooms fashioned from white Italian marble with eye-catching mosaic tiles inspired by traditional Qatari weaved baskets, dual basins, rain showers and stand-alone baths.

There are four categories of rooms available: Superior, Deluxe, Premier and Club Deluxe, most with either city or courtyard views. The hotel's eight suite categories: Club Studio, Studio, Junior, Deluxe, Premier, Panoramic, Baraha View Suite and the Royal Suite, each offer distinct and differing features such as expansive terraces, spectacular views, an entertainment room and kitchenette.
