WERNER ANZINGER, GENERAL MANAGER OF MANDARIN ORIENTAL JUMEIRA, DUBAI

Werner Anzinger, the General Manager of Mandarin Oriental Jumeira, Dubai is at the helm of the launch of Mandarin Oriental's first property in the UAE.

A hospitality professional with over 25 years of experience within the industry – 21 of these with Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group – Werner Anzinger is perfectly equipped to manage all aspects around this high-profile launch.

Mr. Anzinger will provide the strategic direction for this 265-key hotel. He is responsible for overseeing the hotel's overall operation and performance as well as building a strong culture and highly motivated team, in order to ensure the hotel is successfully positioned as one of the best in the city.

Austrian-born Mr. Anzinger first joined the company in 1997 at Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, London as a Chief Steward, fast climbing the ranks to become Assistant Food and Beverage Manager in the year 2000. Moving on to become Food and Beverage Manager for Bermuda's Elbow Beach Resort in 2002– which was managed by Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group until March 2014– he then played a pivotal part in the opening of Mandarin Oriental, Washington D.C.

In 2004, Mr. Anzinger moved slightly closer to home with his appointment as Executive Assistant Manager in Food and Beverage at Mandarin Oriental, Munich, swiftly followed by a promotion to Hotel Manager in 2005.

A stint at The Excelsior, Hong Kong as the Director of Food and Beverage saw him look after no less than 870,000 diners in 2006. Mr. Anzinger then moved back to Mandarin Oriental Hyde
