Holistic Health in partnership with Clinique La Prairie

The Spa at Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, London will be recognised as the first hotel in the world outside the Clinique’s Swiss location to offer Holistic Health longevity workshops and nutritional consultations. Offering a comprehensive approach to wellness, experienced spa nutritionists at the spa trained by Clinique La Prairie, will provide a bespoke longevity health nutritional consultation to prescribe the correct supplement for each individual. Building on 90 years of research and clinical practice, the Clinique La Prairie team of Life Science experts has identified five fundamental pillars of balanced holistic wellness: Immunity, Neuromodulation

(stress management), Anti-Inflammation, Rejuvenation and Cellular Longevity. Using these as foundational markers, the team has combined powerful bioactive compounds that target each of these pillars in a proprietary formula, developing their advanced Holistic Health Supplements. At each level, the expert-led and luxurious experiences will take guests on personalised paths to recover from everyday life stressors that can physically drain them, impair their ability to stay strong, and diminish the vitality of skin.

OSKIA Cryo Wellness Facial

Designed by OSKIA in partnership with beauty and wellness expert Julie Cichocki, the new OSKIA Sub-Zero Cryotherapy Facial and Revitalizing Oxygen Facial adeptly incorporate cryotherapy, acupoints and the precise application of movements and manipulation. Powered by a combination of natural ingredients and new technology, results are both visible and long-lasting with anti-inflammatory and anti-ageing effects that leave skin looking and feeling renewed. Guests are encouraged to enhance their Cryo Wellness Facial by adding OSKIA's LED light treatment and compression therapy to promote even skin tone and texture.

Biologique Recherche – Remodeling Facial

World renowned skincare brand, Biologique Recherche, has launched its Remodeling Facial – a revolutionary treatment designed to elevate skincare to a new level. Using a special machine that combines the power of three currents (galvanic, medium, and high frequency) together with a unique combination of massage techniques that creates immediate and long-lasting results. This treatment also uses electroporation - a high-frequency pulse current which increases the permeability of the skin's surface - allowing the serum to penetrate more deeply and enhancing the efficacy of its high-dose active ingredients.
