An iconic landmark in the heart of Zurich blending modern luxury with historic charm and providing exceptional experiences through Mandarin Oriental's legendary service.

Hong Kong, 26 September 2023 – Mandarin Oriental Savoy, Zurich will open its doors this winter following a full multi-million-dollar renovation, bringing Mandarin Oriental's legendary service to the heart of the city.

Founded by Johannes Baur in 1838, this iconic property was Zurich's first grand hotel. Tasteful design and interiors

Created by respected Paris-based interior designer Tristan Auer, the beautifully curated interiors merge historical details with modern style, using a carefully selected colour palette mirroring the hotel's surroundings. Meticulously crafted design elements and materials, such as artisan hand-painted silk wallpapers, adorn the rooms and embody a contemporary style that strikingly contrasts with the building's architecture. Many of the 44 rooms and 36 suites offer balconies, terraces or private rooftops, presenting stunning views of the city's landmarks and the Swiss Alps. Mandarin Oriental Savoy features some of the city's largest suites, including a lavish four-bedroom apartment spanning 275sqm, providing an exquisite blend of modern luxury and time-honoured charm.

Exquisite dining

Enjoying the hotel's enchanting ambience, guests can embark on a culinary adventure and savour global flavours in four captivating dining venues.

Intimate and sophisticated, ORSINI is a fine-dining Italian restaurant led by Consultant Chef Antonio Guida, from the two-Michelin-starred Seta restaurant at Mandarin Oriental, Milan.
