M BAR RECOMMENDATION

Diebolt-Vallois, Blanc de Blancs Prestige, Brut NV Bottle 1,250

Diebolt-Vallois Blanc de Blancs Prestige, from Cramant, is comprised entirely of Grand Crus vines. The chalky soil of Côte de Blancs makes the perfect home for chardonnay. It is a very admirable wine with exceptional inner-mouth energy and elegance. Powerfully lemony and its very long finish shows superb perfume and cut.

		Bottle
Pinot Grigio, Colli Orientali DOC, Livio Felluga, Friuli, Italy	2015	990

This celebrated variety derives from a bud mutation of Pinot Noir. Pinot Grigio favours cooler climates and finds its ideal habitat on the hillsides. Livio Felluga's vinification technique gives the wine finesse and elegance while preserving the faint coppery highlights that are Pinot Grigio's hallmark. The 2015 vintage shows pleasant and intense aromas of melon, nectarine, peach, pear and almond blossom with hints of candied ginger and papaya; it is well-structured, embracing and savoury with notes of apricot, whipped cream, almond milk, pistachio fading towards aromas of nettle.

Pinot Noir, Lake Wanaka, Rippon, Central Otago, New Zealand	2013	1,100

Rippon Vineyard recently celebrated 30 years of producing wine and 100 years of farming the land.

The vines grow in complex schist soils, they are un-grafted and have been farmed organically since planting. This bottle of 2012 is moderately light reddish in colour with expressive aromas of alpine strawberries, red cherries, and baking spices. It is a complete wine with a satisfying core of fresh red fruits, well-mannered tannins and an impressively long finish flush with cherries and nervy acidity.
