

“Welcome to the Hyde Park Garden. This place has so many memories for me because I grew up in a small basement flat nearby. But time had buried them until two years ago, when I did a photoshoot in the park opposite, in which I enjoyed a mindful cheese sandwich – focusing on the senses and the moment – and the memories flooded back. As a kid, Hyde Park was my playground and I got into plenty of scrapes there, including breaking into the boathouse and being fished out of a fountain. So for me this is not just a beautifully relaxed and tranquil place, it’s also rich with nostalgia.” - Heston
