

AGAVE TALES UNDER AN ARABIAN NIGHT

An enchanted evening in Marrakech, where each sip unfolds a story of Jalisco's agave spirit woven into the legends of the Arabian Nights.

In the heart of the Mandarin Oriental Marrakech, the Don Julio Hacienda becomes a stage for a meeting of worlds — where the sun-kissed fields of Jalisco meet the storied courtyards of Morocco, three voices gather to tell their story.

From the sun-drenched fields of Jalisco comes

TONANTZIN

Aztec goddess of the earth and sacred plants, guardian of the agave, and keeper of tequila' deepest secrets. Her creations are rooted in the soil — rich, generous, and alive with the spirit of the land.

Across the dunes, from the lantern-lit palaces of the Arabian Nights, arrives the master storyteller whose 1,001 tales weave romance, mystery, and transformation. Her cocktails are like her stories: layered, unexpected, and steeped in magic.

Guiding them both is

a timeless traveler of the desert winds, whose gift is to bridge worlds.

He carries flavours from distant lands - smoke, spice, fruit, and flowers - so that the two queens might meet, share their treasures, and create something neither could alone.

CHAPTER I MYTHS OF TONANTZIN

Beneath the sun of Jalisco, Tonantzin guards the agave fields — a goddess of earth, bounty, and sacred plants. Each cocktail is a blessing, drawn from the sweetness of the land and the strength of tradition, where every sip carries the warmth of the sun and the soul of Mexico.
